*Note—Registers not properly filled out. It is impossible to make a full report.

In some schools illness of pupils has interfered with their regular attendance, while a few instances have been noted where scholars were allowed by parents to absent themselves more than seemed necessary; this ought not to be so, and attention is called to the school laws in regard to truants.

Parents who encourage their children in not attending each day while school is in session, are working a permanent injury to their loved ones. The habit of idleness is the parent of mischief, and this pupil always meets with indifferent success in the future school of life.

May we also hope for a better record of citizens. Should you acquire the custom of visiting your children in the school-room, you would have a personal knowledge of their class work and deportment and establish between yourself and the teacher a helpful sympathy, which in many instances is apparently lacking.

In our visits to the different schools we have seen many points worthy of compliment.

The Twin school taught by Miss Calahan was a pleasant place to visit on account of good order and systematic work in the branches. Ventilation was lacking in the old school building, but in the new and commodious building this has been looked after.

At the Fabyan school, taught by Miss Florence Jenness, we observed good order and heard some excellent recitations.

The Applebee school had Miss Swasey and Miss Myrtie Libby as teachers and made fairly good progress during the year.

Cherry Mountain school taught by Mrs. Snow was excellent in every point. Miss Colby taught the fall and winter schools, and her map drawing should be imitated by other schools in town.

At the Pine Grove school two teachers were employed during the year. Miss Fannie Rosebrook for the first term and Miss Lena Dodge the remainder of the year. Miss Dodge gave her pupils thorough instruction and used her term in imparting useful knowledge in a way which was beneficial to each pupil.

At the Middle District we found a Normal teacher, Miss Pinkham, for the first term. The second was taught by Miss Daisy Clough of Bloomfield, Vt., who has the talent of bringing out the strong points in each pupil so that they make the most of their school opportunities.

Our schools as a whole have advanced in general work and in some lines of study excelled previous records in town.

To close we would call the attention of teachers, who may be employed in town, to the importance of filling out their Registers properly, and in full, that the Board of Education may know just what work has been done in each district during the year, for no other way can proper credit be given to each teacher and the pupils of our town.

Let each citizen encourage in all ways the advancement of education and the future will be far brighter than the past in intellectual advancement and moral culture.

Dana Brown, Superintendent.

REPORT OF TRUSTEES TOWN LIBRARY.

Our town library, though in its infancy, we feel sure has been productive of good—It numbers but 150 volumes. 84 cards have been issued. 72 are in circulation.

Mrs. Emily E. Lane the librarian has proved most efficient in the work, she having great interest in it from the start. No books have been lost and she looks sharply after fines and all business connected with the library.

It is to be understood that the services of the trustees and librarian were freely given for the year 1893, but in view of the fact that Mrs. Lane gave a room in her own house, and faithfully for 52 weeks attended to the care and distribution of books, the sum of five dollars was given her—unsolicited and unexpected by her—as a slight token of appreciation.

New books will be added from time to time and let all our towns-people patronize this home institution.
